Sit-Stand Benefits:

- Improve your overall productivity throughout the day by alternating between both sitting and standing positions. This allows your body to stay in motion, allowing for a more focused and motivated work-day.
- Burn more calories, allowing you to maintain a healthy weight & ultimately decreasing your chances of disease caused by obesity. Standing while working burns a third more calories than sitting does.* For someone average size, that could account for more than 500 calories burned in a single day.
- Standing while working helps fight off the naturally occurring slumps and bouts of fatigue that often happen mid-morning or early afternoon.*
- Easily switch positions with just the push of a button, as ALL Ergotech sit-stand systems are electric powered.
- Improve posture, and avoid neck, hip and shoulder problems caused by incorrect Ergonomic positioning.
